Tournament Notes

Sixteen schools from around the southeast descend upon Savannah for the 2005 AASU/Chatham Orthopedics Volleyball Classic this Friday and Saturday ... The Classic returns to a three-court, 16-team format for the first time since 2000 ... Two teams come into the classic unbeaten as Presbyterian (8-0) and Wingate (7-0) ... Florida Southern is the highest-ranked club involved in the Classic as the Mocs check in at No. 14 in this week's CSTV/AVCA Division II Coaches Top 25 Poll. Two other schools are receiving votes in the poll - Florida Gulf Coast and host Armstrong Atlantic ... For those into numbers, there are 216 collegiate volleyball players coming to Savannah this weekend, representing 31 different states and six countries ... Four teams in the field are coming off of NCAA Championships appearances in 2004 - Florida Southern, Presbyterian, Armstrong Atlantic, Florida Gulf Coast ... Two schools feature new head coaches for 2005 - Augusta State (Amber Glass) and Valdosta State (Sia Poyer) ... The Classic is Valdosta State's first trip to Savannah to play since 2001, and marks the first-ever trip to Savannah for Puerto Rico-Rio Piedras, a new member of NCAA Division II last season ... AASU is 10-13 overall against the teams that the Pirates will face in the Classic - 4-10 against Florida Southern, 3-0 against Lenoir-Rhyne, 3-2 against Catawba and 0-1 against Rio Piedras.
