Next Up For The Lady Pirates:
The Lady Pirates are looking to play their way into the NCAA Championships for the third time in the last four years, and probably need at least two wins in Greenwood to accomplish that feat.
AASU faces GC&SU on Thursday, and should the Lady Pirates knock off the Lady Bobcats, the Lady Pirates would face top-seed Clayton State on Saturday at 2:00 p.m. A win over the Lady Lakers - odds-on favorite to host the 2006 South Atlantic Regional this year - would go a long way into pushing the Lady Pirates up the region rankings heading into Sunday’s selection show.

AASU Heads Into PBC Championships As 4 Seed

Led by All-Peach Belt Conference senior forward Audosha Kelley, the Armstrong Atlantic State women’s basketball team heads back to the PBC Championships this season as the No. 4 seed and will face No. 5-seed GC&SU on Thursday, March 2, at 3:00 p.m. in the day’s second game.
After a one-year absence from the field, the Lady Pirates are eager to return to the postseason. Two years ago, the Lady Pirates lost to regular season PBC champion Lander in the semifinals; three years ago, the Lady Pirates ran the table collecting their first-ever Peach Belt Conference tournament championship with a 56-55 win over host Columbus State.

This season’s squad has been buoyed by the scoring load of Kelley, who leads the club with a 17.4 ppg average, and senior Alicia Durham. The all-purpose player is averaging 12.6 points, 4.9 rebounds and 2.8 steals per game and has an outside shot to become just the 9th player in AASU history to score 1,000 points if the Lady Pirates go deep in the postseason.
The success for the Lady Pirates this season has been remarkable given where they rank among the PBC schools in certain statistical categories - AASU ranks at the bottom of the 11-team league in free throw and 3-point percentage and 10th in field goal percentage, but the Lady Pirates have beaten every team in the PBC Tournament field except Clayton State and come into the tournament having won seven of its last 10 contests.

AASU Women's Notes at PBC Championships, 3/1-5/06

• Head Coach Roger Hodge

Roger Hodge begins his sixth season at the helm of the Armstrong Atlantic State women's basketball program. The Lady Pirates have experienced unprecedented success under Coach Hodge, advancing to two NCAA Championships berths, earning WBCA Top 25 national rankings in two seasons and compiling an impressive 88-59 overall record in five seasons, the best winning percentage in AASU history.

This past season, the Lady Pirates compiled a 17-13 overall record, coming off the heels of a 23-8 campaign in 2004-05 that culminated in AASU’s first-ever NCAA postseason victory, a 75-68 win over North Florida at the South Atlantic Regional.

In 2002-03, Hodge put the Lady Pirates on the map regionally and nationally, leading AASU to a 27-4 record, a first-ever PBC Championship, NCAA berth and a WBCA Top 25 national ranking. He also directed NCAA Division II’s best single-season turnaround last season, taking an 11-18 squad that had advanced to the PBC Tournament semifinals and improving on the record by 15 games.

The sixth AASU women's basketball coach in school history, Hodge succeeded Lynn Jarrett in 2000-2001 and was hired from Division I Liberty University, where he served as an assistant on the highly successful Flames program.

Hodge entered the collegiate coaching ranks in 1997 with Liberty University, Hodge assisted Lady Flames head coach Rick Reeves on two Big South championship squads in 1997-98 and 1998-99 and assisted head coach Carey Green in 1999-2000 when Liberty went 23-8 and captured the Big South Conference tournament for the fourth straight year. Prior to Liberty, Hodge was an assistant coach at Mercer Christian Academy in Princeton, W. Va., and helped lead the school to the 1996 Class A state championship.

• Peach Belt Preseason Poll Check

In the preseason poll of the league’s coaches, the Lady Pirates were picked to finish fourth in the 2005-06 season, and finished tied for fourth in the final regular season standings. A look at the 2005-06 standings and how they were selected to finish in the preseason coaches’ poll:

• Durham On The Charts

Senior Alicia Durham is now AASU women’s basketball’s all-time leader in games played after participating in her 114th career contest on Feb. 11 against UNC Pembroke in Alumni Arena.

The four-year starter has missed just one game in her Lady Pirate career and now has played in 118 career games, passing former teammate Marloes Renskers (2000-04) for the most in women’s basketball history. Durham has started all but one of those 118 games as well, and in her AASU career, the Macon native has scored 947 career points (9th all-time), grabbed 502 rebounds (7th all-time), hit 93 three-pointers (6th all-time), made 234 free throws (5th all-time), dished out 284 assists (4th all-time) and collected 265 steals (2nd all-time). She has also compiled an impressive 1.37 career assists/turnover ratio in her four years.

The Macon, Ga., native has been one of the most versatile players in AASU history and has been a key component of the Lady Pirates’ rise to regional and national prominence over the last four years.

• Kelley Earns All-PBC Honors

Senior Audosha Kelley was named to the 11-member All-Peach Belt Conference women’s basketball team, released on Tuesday.

Kelley averaged a team-best 17.4 points per game this season in helping lead the Lady Pirates to the No. 4 seed in the upcoming PBC tournament. The Savannah native reached double figures in 15 of 18 games this season and recorded a season-high 28 points in Wednesday’s 73-71 win over USC Upstate that clinched a bye in the tournament for the Lady Pirates.

The two-year standout has averaged 17.9 points per game in her career for AASU, the sixth-best career scoring average in Lady Pirate basketball history.

• Against The PBC Tournament Field

With this year’s round-robin PBC regular season schedule, the Lady Pirates have faced each team in the field twice this season. Clayton State is the only team in the field to have swept the Lady Pirates, while AASU only swept two schools - Lander and USC Aiken - during the regular season. AASU split meetings with the other six teams in the field.

Twice, the Lady Pirates won on the road and lost at home against league schools - Augusta State and USC Upstate. AASU has played once previously in Greenwood this season, taking a 78-64 win over Lander back on February 15.

Overall, the Lady Pirates have compiled a 12-10 record in the PBC Championships, a .545 winning percentage that is tied for third among schools for the best winning percentage in tournament history.
• Gordon Grabs ‘Em

Sophomore Kaneetha Gordon has reached double figures in rebounds in five of her last six games and has grabbed 264 boards this season, an 8.9 average that ranks third in the PBC.

The Riceboro, Ga., native and former PBC Freshman of the Year has now collected 501 rebounds in 58 career games, an 8.6 career rebounding average. Gordon is now in a select group of eight players who have recorded 500 career rebounds for the Lady Pirates - including teammate Alicia Durham, who is just ahead of her on the chart at No. 7 with 502 career boards.

At her current pace, Gordon could become the first player to seriously threaten Gigi Gibson’s school record of 963 career rebounds. Gibson played in 109 games in her career and averaged 8.8 rebounds per contest for her career numbers. At her current pace, Gordon would have to play in 112 career games to eclipse Gibson’s school record.

• AASU In The PBC Tournament

The Lady Pirates have appeared in 11 of the previous 14 PBC Championships and compiled a 12-10 record, advancing to the PBC Championship game twice in school history - in 1995 and in 2003.

AASU has won at least one game in the last five tournaments they’ve appeared in, and have advanced to the semifinals three straight times.

• Season Of Streaks

One characteristic of the Lady Pirates’ 2005-06 season has been the propensity of AASU to go on streaks - for better or for worse.

After opening the season by winning two straight, the Lady Pirates embarked on the first of two four-game losing streaks in November and December. Immediately after that, however, AASU fashioned a five-game win streak. The Lady Pirates have also collected win streaks of four and three and only one time this season have the Lady Pirates alternated wins and losses in more than two games - from January 4 through 18 when they went 2-2.

• Letting ‘Em Fly

Armstrong Atlantic may be last in the PBC in three-point shooting percentage, but that hasn’t stopped the Lady Pirates from taking threes all year long.

AASU has made just 159 of 575 three-pointers this season for a 27.7 percentage, but the 575 threes taken are just three short of the single-season record for three-pointers attempted. That number of 578 came in 2002-03 - and it took the Lady Pirates 31 games that season to take that amount of shots from long range.

Twice this season, the Lady Pirates have broken the school record for three-pointers attempted in one game - on Dec. 3 at Columbus State, the Lady Pirates took 33 three-pointers in a 76-54 loss to the Lady Cougars, then on Feb. 6 at GC&SU, AASU took 37 three-pointers in a 63-62 loss to the Lady Bobcats - four off the league record of 41, set in 2003.

• Pirates Above .500 For Fourth Straight Year

The 15-12 overall record compiled by the Lady Pirates this season marks the fourth straight year that AASU has finished better than .500 - a program first.

It wasn’t until Roger Hodge took over the Lady Pirate program that AASU had another such streak of success. In Hodge’s third year, the Lady Pirates captured the PBC Championships with a 27-4 season in 2002-03, then followed that up with another NCAA appearance in a 23-8 campaign in 2003-04.

Last year, the Lady Pirates went 17-13 and this year, AASU used a 7-3 streak late in the year to secure its fourth straight season over .500.

• Quick Hits

AASU has held six different opponents to 50 points or less this season, and the Lady Pirates have not lost a game in which they have held an opponent to less than 50 points since January 24, 1994 - meaning AASU has won its last 32 games when holding teams to under 50 ... AASU is 6-1 when scoring more than 70 points this season, with the only loss coming at high-scoring North Georgia in a 93-85 loss to the PBC champion Lady Saints ... AASU is 5-0 when senior Alicia Durham scores 20 or more points, but only 3-4 when senior Audosha Kelley records 20 or more points ... After the Lady Pirates outrebounded GC&SU by 26 on Monday, Feb. 20, in a 75-61 win over the Lady Bobcats, AASU has been outrebounded by double digits in their last two games, at USC Upstate and against North Georgia. Nine times this season the Lady Pirates have been outrebounded by double figures, and AASU is 4-5 in those contests.
